VISION STATEMENT

We will ensure the entitlement of each student to access a variety of opportunities to promote academic, social, emotional and physical development.

We will use autistic specific, empathetic approaches and an autistic sympathetic learning environment to promote student learning and personal development.

We will provide choices and challenges in order to maximise potential and build upon strengths and interests.

All the members of the school community are valued equally and work in partnership with parents, carers and the wider community.

We will work within a supportive school framework to promote and celebrate individual success, integration into the wider community and prepare students for life after school.

1. Purpose of the Document

The overall objective of Baskerville School's Equality, Diversity and Cohesion Policy is to provide a framework for the school to pursue its equality duties to eliminate unlawful discrimination and harassment, promote equality of opportunity and promote good relations and positive attitudes between people of diverse backgrounds in all its activities.

The principles of this policy apply to all members of the extended school community – students, staff, governors, parents and community members.

Partners and contractors are also expected to abide by the policy.

2. Equality, Diversity and Cohesion Statement

We will not tolerate less favourable treatment of anyone on the grounds of gender, race, disability, sexual orientation, age and religion or belief.

Through our school ethos, curriculum and community links we will work towards

- a common vision
- a sense of belonging for all
- similar life opportunities for all
- strong and positive relationships between different communities.

Through this Equality, Diversity and Cohesion Policy, Baskerville School seeks to ensure that no member of the school community or any person through their contact with the school, receives less favourable treatment on any grounds which cannot be shown to be justified. This covers race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, gender, marital status, responsibility for students or other dependents, disability, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, age, trade union or political activities, socio-economic background, where the person lives or spent convictions.

Equality and Diversity is more than just meeting legal obligations or targets. It's about making a difference to the lives of the people we serve, treating all people with dignity and respect and recognising the value of each individual. This means an ongoing commitment to ensuring that our services meet the varied and individual needs of students and young people in our school. We will make sure that our employment practices are fair and promote equality. We will actively value the wide variety of lifestyles and cultures, locally and nationally. We will prepare students and young people for living in a diverse society with increasing global connections and controversial issues.

We will ensure that the principles of this policy are reflected in all our policies, practices, procedures and services and are part of everything we do.

3. Guiding Principles

At school we fully endorse and accept the following principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value

All learners and potential learners are of equal value and benefit equally from school policies, practices and programmes whatever their ability, background, gender or cultural identity.

Principle 2: Relevant differences are recognised

Treating people equally can mean treating them differently. Policies, practices and programmes do not discriminate but may be differentiated to take account of differences of life experience, outlook and background and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face.

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes, relationships and a shared sense of belonging

Policies and programmes promote

- positive attitudes and interactions
- mutual respect and good relations
- an absence of harassment or prejudice-related bullying between people of different ability, background, gender or cultural identity.

Principle 4: Staff recruitment, retention and development

Policies and procedures benefit all employees and potential employees in recruitment, professional development and promotion. Steps are taken to positively promote equality, especially where there is evidence of inequality.

Principle 5: Current inequalities and barriers are addressed and reduced

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of policies and programmes we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by addressing, reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that already exist between people of different ability, background, gender or cultural identity.

Principle 6: Policy development involves widespread consultation and involvement

People affected by a policy or programme are consulted and involved in the design of new policies and in the review of existing ones. Such consultation is both direct and through representative organisations and is based on principles of transparency and accountability. It involves those who in the past have been excluded or disadvantaged and who continue to face barriers.

Principle 7: Society as a whole benefits

Policies and programmes benefit society as a whole, locally, nationally and internationally by fostering greater cohesion and greater participation in public life of people of different ability, background, gender or cultural identity.

4. Equalities Legislation

Our commitment is reinforced through our legal duty both as an employer and service provider. The legal duties come from a range of relevant equality legislation and associated codes of practice. Through this policy we are committed to complying with the general and specific duties as well as codes of practice.

Race

The Race Relations Act (1976) and the Race Relations Amendment Act (2000) requires schools to take appropriate steps to promote race equality, eliminate unlawful race discrimination and promote good race relations. We have drawn up and will maintain an active Race Equality Scheme, including an action plan, to meet these responsibilities.

Disability

The Disability Discrimination Act (1995 and 2005) places a positive duty on us to ensure that services provided by the school and its premises are accessible to disabled people, that we promote disability equality, eliminate discrimination and harassment and promote positive attitudes to encourage participation. In some situations this may mean treating disabled people more favourably. We have drawn up and will maintain an active Disability Equality Scheme, including an action plan, to meet these responsibilities.

Gender

The Sex Discrimination Act (1975) and the Equality Act (2006) places a positive duty on us not to treat anyone unfairly because of their gender. This means to eliminate discrimination and promote equality of opportunity between girls and boys, men and women. We need to ensure that the needs of both sexes and transgender people are taken into account in our services and employment. We have drawn up and will maintain an active Gender Equality Scheme, including an action plan, to meet these responsibilities.

Sexual Orientation

All public bodies have responsibilities to promote equal opportunities in employment and vocational training on the grounds of sexual orientation through the Employment Equality (Sexual Orientation) Regulations 2003. The Equality Act 2006 extends the provision to service delivery, making it unlawful to discriminate in the provision of goods, services and facilities. We will ensure that we follow these regulations.

Religion and Belief

The school has responsibilities to promote equal opportunities in employment and vocational training on the grounds of religion and belief through the Employment Equality (Religion or Belief) Regulations 2003. The Equality Act 2006 extends the provision to service delivery, making it unlawful to discriminate in the provision of goods, services, facilities and public functions. This also includes lack of faith and people of no faith. We will ensure that we follow these regulations.

Age

The school has responsibilities to promote equal opportunities in employment and vocational training on the grounds of age through the Age Discrimination Act 2006 and Age Discrimination Regulations. The provisions apply to all age groups. We will ensure that we follow these regulations.

Community Cohesion

The Education and Inspections Act 2006 places a responsibility on schools to promote community cohesion locally, nationally and globally. We will do this through promoting a common vision, a commitment to equality and social justice, respecting peoples' different backgrounds and promoting positive relationships in the school and local neighbourhood. We recognise that the biggest influence on educational outcomes is social class and that this can also strongly affect community cohesion. We have programmes to 'narrow the gap' and to draw people together from different social backgrounds.

Future legislation

We will also welcome the contribution of future equalities legislation to provide equal opportunities for everyone.

5. Implementation

We will ensure implementation through action in the following areas

- Relationships and ethos – to foster behaviour based on rights, responsibilities and mutual respect between all members of the school community, to support students' personal development and well-being, to address all forms of prejudice related bullying.
- Equity and excellence – to ensure equal opportunities for all to succeed at the highest possible level possible, removing barriers to access and participation in learning and wider activities and minimising variations in outcomes for different groups.
- Teaching, learning and curriculum – to teach students to understand others, to promote common values and value diversity, to promote awareness of human rights and of the responsibility to uphold and defend them and to develop the skills of participation and responsible action.
- Engagement and extended services – to provide a means for students, young people and their families to interact with people from different backgrounds and build positive relations, including links with different school communities locally, across the country and internationally.

6. Monitoring, reviewing and assessing impact

This policy is supported by school's disability and gender equality schemes and a race equality action plan.

The schemes and action plans run for three years but are reviewed and reported upon annually to the governing body.

The School Development Plan ensures that schemes and action plans form an essential part of the school's action on equality. It includes targets determined by the governing body for inclusion and equality in the school, promoting a cohesive community and equality in the workforce. It also ensures other school policies address equality issues.

This policy will be regularly monitored and reviewed by staff and governors to ensure that it is effective in tackling discrimination, promoting access and participation, equality and good relations between different groups and that it does not disadvantage particular sections of the community.

Any pattern of inequality found as a result of impact assessments is used to inform future planning and decision-making.

A named member of staff and a named governor responsible for equality monitors specific outcomes (see roles and responsibilities) annually.

The Head Teacher provides monitoring reports for review by the Governing Body. These include school population, workforce recruitment, retention and progression, special initiatives, progress against Key Indicators and targets and future plans. Normally this is in the Head Teacher's report to Governors.

7. Roles and Responsibilities

All who are associated with school have a responsibility for promoting equality and inclusion and avoiding unfair discrimination.

The students are responsible for:

- Treating others kindly and fairly without prejudice, discrimination or harassment
- Attending and engaging in their own learning as well as helping other students to learn

Visitors and contractors are responsible for:

- Knowing and following our equality policy.

- Coordinating and monitoring work on equality issues.
- Dealing with and monitoring reports of harassment (including racist and homophobic incidents).
- Monitoring the progress and attainment of vulnerable groups of students (e.g. Black and minority ethnic students including Gypsies and Travellers).
- Monitoring exclusions.

8. Breaches of the Policy
